

You know, this may be a bad time, but did you ever consider that there might be a way to make your life a bit easier?

Probably not. Well, good thing we launched the first automated mechanical drill for the printed circuit board industry nearly 40 years ago. Because the things we've learned over those years could mean a little less for you to worry about today. And that's why we continue to make a full line of mechanical drills, routers, and even laser drills. Right here, in the good ol' US of A. Not clear across the ocean. Because your job keeps you busy enough without worrying about a bunch of teeny-weeny holes.
